

Judges for the 2011 Competition

Judging Life-Size Mammals will be Ken Walker of Alberta, Canada. Unless you're new or have been living in a cave you know how talented this man is. He has several world titles to his credit and is one of the best teachers and clinicians you'll ever learn from. Plus, I hear he's a hoot to be around and a very talented singer as well.

Judging Game Heads will be Dean Schulte of Coalville, Utah. Dean runs a very successful taxidermy shop and is a perennial judge and an avid competitor. His talent and depth speaks for itself.

Judging Birds will be Glen Browning of British Columbia, Canada. His knowledge of avian taxidermy goes WAY beyond the nuts and bolts. He is a master in anatomy, a wonderful photographer, and his studies in both these areas are very extensive as one can see by reading Breakthrough Magazine. Glen is also one of the most personable people I've ever been around.

Judging Fish and Reptiles will be Dan Johnson of Syracuse, Utah. Dan's fish have won top honors on a national level and his knowledge is based on a taxidermy career that spans 3 decades. Dan is HANDY!

Scott Humble will once again be judging our Youth and Novice Divisions. His kind personality and helpful attitude is just what the doctor ordered when it comes to getting your feet wet at a big competition. He is a great teacher and a thorough judge having competed and won in every single category.
